mode by changing an order of indications, wherein the order of the indications is independent of the position of the windows in the first and second portions in the freeform mode, and wherein unified desktop can move a window selected by user input freely between the first and second portions.

* * * * *